A Captivating mixed media collage featuring black female bodies that are intricately woven into striking silhouette. The work is painted using coffee and tea stains, giving it the natural hues of brown skin. The nude bodies and subtle materials further accentuate the delicate, vulnerable nature of the female experience in multiple dimensions.

Frame	A sleek black frame with a white mount surrounds a burgundy board, upon which the silhouette cutout is elegantly float-mounted.
Medium	Fabriano Paper, dried Flower, soft pastels, pencil, ink, coffee and tea.
