

Solo Play

R 5,250.00 ex. vat

How do children enjoy their own company so well? This is a question brought to mind by this scenic photograph. Sparse and striking, 'Solo Play' depicts a boy flying a DIY kite on the beach in Lagos. It intently captures the carefree abandon of childhood, and the absorption with one's inner world. As in her other images, Daniella Almona plays with motion to create a cinematic effect with her work. It is an alluring narrative that reminds us to spend time with ourselves and continuously nourish our inner worlds.
