

Body as an archive

R 46,850.00 ex. vat

Body as an Archive delves into the transformative power of African fabric. It transcends mere adornment, becoming a canvas for redefining cultural, racial, and gender identities. The textiles serve as a testament to personal histories and vibrant cultural expressions, whispering stories through their patterns and textures. By incorporating hairstyles reminiscent of traditional architecture, the piece bridges the past and present, weaving them into a unique tapestry. Ultimately, Body as an Archive celebrates the constant evolution of African identity, fostering new and empowered narratives.

Frame	None
Edition Size	20
Medium	Digital Print on Tecco Fine Art Paper
Location	Harare, Zimbabwe
Height	118.00 cm
Width	78.00 cm
Artist	Tamary Kudita
Year	2019

