

little girl I

R 11,500.00 ex. vat

This print is one of two in the series titled Little Girl. It is a litho print in blue-black ink, designed to mimic the cyanotype printing process. The work explores the themes of black joy and the preservation of black childhood joy. Little Girl emphasises how children's resilience, curiosity, and innocence can serve as powerful agents for change.

The print also features red embroidery, which symbolises love and unity. This embroidery is a visual message to the little girl, showing her she is not alone in her journey. It outlines her shadow, creating the illusion of a figure that is present in a spiritual sense. This figure represents guides, angels, or guardians, always with her, no matter where she goes.

Inspired by Frank Cieciorca's painting Little Girl in the book Hell on Earth, this work blends powerful symbolism and intricate detail to convey a profound message.

Frame	None
Edition Size	6
Medium	Lithography and Embroidery on Fabriano Paper
Location	Johannesburg, South Africa
Height	40.00 cm
Width	30.00 cm
Artist	Keabetse Maake
Year	2023

