

Figment 37

R 2,500.00 ex. vat

Acrylics, fabric and found flyer on canvas. This forms part of the Figment Series, a series of small visual musings on the use of broken pattern in the search for belonging. The flyer was found on the windshield of a car on the street in Seville, Spain, where I am currently based. The work is stretched but not framed, and signed on the back. It is available from my Spain studio.
