R 9,500.00 ex. vat

Full title: "I never knew that the POV within a dream reveals more about the dream itself. In fact, I never realized that I was always seeing the scene and never myself within the landscapes. If I ever see myself in a dream, from the POV of me seeing me, I know the version of me I see is not the current version of me. It's not just about me being there, it's about what I am doing there and why."
