

False Shaman

R 4,500.00 ex. vat

Downtown Johannesburg, South Africa is filled with Shamans and medicine men, promising prosperity and a happy life. The artist once bought a potion to sell his artworks, his solo exhibition ended without one artwork being sold. He went back to the Shaman and asked for his money back, claiming that the Shaman had swindled him, he didn't receive it back. He created this artwork especially for that experience.
