Post Art 6 is a mixed media artwork created in 2025, the materials include acrylic paint, oil pastels, charcoal, fabriano on shopping bag. It is a product of a 7-year research project under the topic, Post Art Vulgarly processed as Commercial Aestheticism. The research investigates the process of creating art with new techniques not familiarized previously as aesthetic but rather looking at what attracts the observance of the buyer and collector. This investigation has found that, what is new and not known or recognized is firstly accepted as vulgar, it is after studies and thorough observations, that a new product or in this case, an artwork is received as aesthetically appealing. The artwork title Post Art 6 comes from the label of the research and how it pursues itself to be a contemporary art movement.
