

Ikéngà

R 26,800.00

Ikéngà is the embodiment of strength a powerful symbol of self, rooted deeply in the heart of Igbo cosmology. It stands beside the Chi, a divine counterpart, reflecting the harmony between personal destiny and spiritual essence. More than a mere symbol, Ikéngà is a repository of human endeavor. It represents success, achievement, and victory a testament to the resilience and drive that propel one forward. The Ikéngà often takes the form of an intricate figure, most notably marked by protruding horns, reminiscent of the ram. This design speaks to the fierce determination and aggressiveness of the ram an animal revered for its unwavering pursuit of its path. In Igbo belief, prosperity is not passive; to succeed, one must venture boldly, much like the ram charging ahead. At its core, the Ikéngà is a reflection of the divine self an image of one's Chi, a mirror to the strength and purpose embedded within the soul. It transcends the individual, embodying not only personal triumphs but also the collective strength of the community. In the Ikéngà lies the power to manifest greatness, both for the self and for the greater good.

Medium	Isijakwa
Location	Lagos, Nigeria
Height	68.00 cm
Width	96.00 cm
Artist	Chinecherem Peace
Year	2022
Subject	Abstract

