

A nubian harvest

R 52,092.00

The painting shows a woman seated calmly in the lower right area, wearing flowing pink and magenta robes with a matching headscarf. She is surrounded by an array of large, circular and organic forms resembling sunflowers, seeds, shells, and minerals in vivid hues of gold, orange, blue, and purple. The background swirls with marbled patterns of turquoise, amber, and cream, evoking a mix of sky, water, and cosmic energy. The composition combines botanical and geological textures, creating a rich, layered environment that blends natural and abstract elements around the central figure.
