Simphiwe Dlamini, Imagining Moments, Multiplate Linocut, 42 x 29.6cm, Ed of 5, Framed

It's all about the shadow behind these two women that are so bright, colorful and beautiful. They represent the thought that we always have in our lives but never get a chance to make them come through. These thoughts end up overpowering us, and in turn we end up living through them, slowly forgetting who we are.
